Mayor Gorton asked Marley Bush, Director of the Central Kentucky YMCA Black Achievers Program, and Paula Anderson, President and CEO of Central YMCA to join her at the podium, along with Ms. Gray, and read a Proclamation declaring November 2, 2023 as YMCA Black Achievers Day in Lexington.

Mayor Gorton shared some of the history and mission of the Central Kentucky YMCA Black Achievers Program and added that over the past 38 years of the program, they had served over 8,000 students. She thanked Ms. Bush and all the other staff and volunteers who made this program possible.

Ms. Bush thanked the Council and Mayor for their recognition of the YMCA Black Achievers Program.

Ms. Anderson thanked the Council and Mayor for the recognition and spoke about the importance of the program.

Ms. Gray thanked her colleagues, Mr. J. Brown and Ms. Lynch, for volunteering with the YMCA Black Achievers. She spoke of her experience in the program and attributed it to her success today. She spoke of the importance of having the YMCA Black Achievers come and visit the Government Center. She also shared the importance of representation within government and community leadership.

Mayor Gorton asked Megan Moloney, Director of Bluegrass Ceili Academy to join her at the podium, along with Ms. Sheehan, and read a Proclamation declaring November 2, 2023 as Bluegrass Ceili Academy Day in Lexington.

Mayor Gorton introduced the Bluegrass Ceili Academy as a community based dance organization that aimed to promote and teach traditional Irish Dance for all ages. She celebrated that the Academy had recently won a National Championship Title in the Adult Mixed Four Hand Category at the 2023 North American Irish Dance Championships in Nashville. Mayor Gorton detailed the many ways in which the Academy had been involved in the Lexington community.

Ms. Moloney thanked the Mayor and the Council for honoring the Bluegrass Ceili Academy and shared that Mayor Gorton had actually attended the very first class that she had taught in Lexington. She highlighted that the Academy had partnerships with various community partners, including the Dept. of Parks and Recreation, to be able to provide programming to people of all ages across the community.

Ms. Sheehan revealed that she had been dancing as a student with the Bluegrass Ceili Academy for the past year (she clarified that she was not a part of the competition team that had won the National Championship Title) and detailed the amount of dedication and hard work that the performers with the Academy had. She praised Ms. Moloney as a coach and congratulated the Academy on their win.

Mayor Gorton asked Robert “Dee” Bishop, Director of Bands at Lafayette High School, to join her at the podium, along with his associate directors and the four field commander students, and read a Proclamation declaring November 2, 2023 as Lafayette High School Marching Band Day in Lexington.

Mayor Gorton detailed her history with the Lafayette High School Marching Band, having had children in the band and being married to a former Lafayette High School Marching Band member. She announced that the Lafayette High School Marching Band had won its 23rd Kentucky Music Educators Association Band Championship in the Class 5A state finals.

Mr. Bishop thanked the Mayor and Council for their support of the Lafayette High School Marching Band.

Ms. Elliott Baxter thanked the group for coming to receive their Proclamation, shared her experience in the Lafayette High School Marching Band, and declared that she was a four time Lafayette High School Marching Band Champion.

Vice Mayor Wu shared that he was a recently retired Lafayette Band Parent and that his partner, a teacher at Lafayette, was involved as a volunteer. He spoke of the positive effect that being a part of the Marching Band had had upon his child and thanked the Band Directors.

Mr. Sevigny noted that Lafayette High School was in his district and spoke about his experience watching the band perform.

Mr. F. Brown extended his congratulations to the band and spoke about his experience repeatedly watching the performance. He boasted that his family had, in total, been a part of 10 Lafayette Band Championships.
